DISTRICT POLITICS.

[ADVERTISEMENT]

FELLOW CITIZENS:

I am a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Judge of this District.

Politically, I am upon principle, as well as by affiliation, a Republican. Yet, in this contest, I am not the candidate of any party, clique, caucus or convention.

I am an independent and non-partisan candidate from what I deem a just sense of the eternal fitness of things.

The office of Judge has no legitimate connection with politics, and baneful results attend every contest between them. The Judge who takes politics with him upon the bench, and the people who elect him, for political or party reasons, alike deserve execration.

Even the discussion of party politics in a canvass for the office of Judge, seems to me not only in bad taste, but extremely futile to result in evil. It gives undue prominence and importance to the political opinions of the candidates, needlessly arouses the passions and prejudices of the people and leads their minds away from the real merits of the canvass. The country can have no assurance of good Judges so long as this is the case.

But a still greater source of evil is the nomination or selection, by party action, of candidates for the office of Judge, and the blind support of the nominees by the party, regardless of all other considerations. Under such an order of things mere party strength may often determine the question whether the country is to have a good or a bad Judge. Such ought not to be the case.

But much worse features of this misapplied party action are to be found in the office of Judge, decline all pretension to it because they self respect and sense of propriety will not allow them to resort to the means generally adopted to secure party nomination. But no matter how zealously the claims of such men may be urged, they stand but a poor chance for party nomination. They are not generally considered available, and availability is the one all-sufficient desideratum with a party in the selection of a candidate. Fitness for office seems never to be considered at all, even as an element of eligibility.

If elected, I promise to make you an industrious, patient and painstaking Judge. It would be my purpose to in augment system, preserve order and enforce decorum in and about the Temple of Justice, that public business may move promptly and smoothly on, and even-handed justice be meted out to all with the least possible vexation, expense or delay.

JOHN W. TUTTLE.

MONTICELLO, KY., June 25, 1874.

The Effect of a Finale.

The following story is told of Alexander Dumas, at a time when he was writing a serial novel for a Paris daily journal:

One day the Marquis de P— called on him.

"Dumas," said he, "have you composed the end of the story now being published in the—?"

"Of course."

"Does the heroine die at the end?"

"Of course—dies of consumption."

After such symptoms as I have described, how could she live?"

"You must make her live. You must change the catastrophe."

"I can not."

"Yes, you must; for on your heroine's life depends my daughter's."

"Your daughter's?"

"Yes; she has all the various symptoms of consumption which you have described, and watches mournfully for every number of your novel, reading her own fate in that of your heroine's. Now, if you make your heroine live, my daughter, whose imagination has been deeply impressed, will live too."

"Come! a life to save is a temptation."

"Not to be resisted."

Dumas changed his last chapter. His heroine recovered and was happy.

About five years afterward Dumas met the Marquis at a party.

"Ah, Dumas!" he exclaimed, "let me introduce you to my daughter; she owes her life to you. There she is."

"That fine, handsome woman, who looks like Joan of Arc?"

"Yes. She is married, and has four children."

"And my novel has four editions," said Dumas; "so we are quits."

Oh all painful things, can there be any so excruciatingly painful as a love affair? We know none that flesh is heir to. As this analogy is quite frequent and the subject of much earnest consideration, we give the last receipt for its cure, which is given by the London Lancet: As soon as the disease is felt put directly over the spot a fly-blister about the size of your thumb nail, and let it remain for six hours, at the expiration of which time, directly under the surface of the blister may be seen the fellow, which can be instantly taken out with the point of a needle or a lancet.

When a Tennessee father walks into a newspaper office with a shot gun on his arm, and says: "My daughter has written some poetry, which I want you to publish," how a fellow going to plead press of matter?

CAPT. JONES' ELIGIBILITY.

The State Executive Committee has unanimously declared that there is no legal objection whatever to the nomination of Captain Jones to the Democratic Party.

At a meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee.

At a meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee, composed of the State Central Committee, with one additional committee from each Congressional district, held at the Galt House, Louisville, on Tuesday, July 7, at 12 M., in pursuance to call, Hon. K. P. Pritchard, of the Tenth district, was called to the chair, and J. Stoddard Johnston elected secretary.

A quorum of the committee being present.

The chairman stated the object of the meeting to be to consider the charges against Captain T. C. Jones, Democratic nominee for the clerkship of the Court of Appeals as affecting his eligibility to the office. After due consideration and discussion on the subject Mr. W. P. Gregory of the second district, submitted the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee.

That it is the sense of this committee that Thomas C. Jones is eligible to the clerkship of the Court of Appeals.

Mr. J. C. Underwood moved that a sub-committee of three be appointed to prepare an address to the Democracy of Kentucky.

expressive of the sense of the committee upon the subject, and the same was adopted. Whereupon the chair appointed as said committee Messrs Underwood, Gregory, and Johnston.

A recess having been taken during the preparation of the address.

upon reassembling the following report was made and unanimously adopted:

THE ADDRESS.

To the Democracy of Kentucky: The Democratic State Central Executive Committee, having carefully and fully investigated the question of the eligibility of Capt. Thomas C. Jones to the clerkship of the Court of Appeals, do unanimously express our opinion that he is eligible, and that there are no grounds in the facts of the case on which to raise a serious doubt to the contrary.

We do therefore not only recommend to the Democracy of the State our regular nominee for the Clerkship of the Court of Appeals as a man in every way worthy of support.

but we earnestly urge upon every good and true Democrat the necessity and duty of prompt and decisive action at the polls, and we appeal to them to march shoulder to shoulder and on the first Monday of August in relieving another overwhelming victory for our cause, and at the same time retaking the unchastened of our political foes.—Courier-Journal.

Mr. LAYLE is said to be expected to make pointed allusions to the "sharp-headed editors of the little ticks."

—Standard Paper. "When he opens upon an offender with his withering satire and scorching Billingsgate, that offender is 'done for,' demolished, annihilated, exterminated. We will not, at this time, be provoked to a retort. We will say, however, that such speeches are rarely heard from aspirants for the dignified and respectable position of Judge.

The town of Lancaster has purchased a Champion Fire Extinguisher.

at a cost of $200. The county court gave them $200 of the sum. Richmond is contemplating the purchase of a similar machine, and Stanford should do so, and not only think about it, but actually make the purchase. A very small tax on our property would suffice, and it might be the means of saving many thousands of dollars.

Shooting crackers on the 4th of July.

cost one town in Illinois $200,000, and one in Pennsylvania $300,000. Other towns lost more or less by the misuse of these useless and dangerous playthings. The impatience of them has been forbidden by Congress, we believe, and if it has not been done, it should be. Simple gunpowder is far less dangerous, and equally effective as a means of 4th of July glorification.

The large farm dwelling house of Dr. S. G. Becker.

at Tarnesville, in this county, together with nearly all the furniture therein, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday night last. We have not learned the particulars, but hear that his loss is over $1,500—with no insurance.

Hon. Eli B. Washburn is said to be a probable candidate for nomination to the Presidency for next term, on the Republican ticket, and that if Grant could name his successor there would be no doubt of his selecting Mr. Washburn.

The remains of the lamented soldier, and brilliant poet, Col. Theodore O'Hara, were brought from Georgia, where he died soon after the war, and were re-interred in the cemetery at Frankfort. This was done by an act of our last Legislature.
